EDITOR'S NOTE

Dear Shoppers,

It's that time of the year again when the festive spirit reigns. As the pleasant autumn wind blows, we get ready for the upcoming season of weddings, festivals and parties. And we have already set the ball rolling at our malls, starting with weddings: we organised a grand fashion extravaganza to make sure there's nothing amiss on your D Day! From clothes to accessories and the latest in jewellery, we collated the best our malls have to offer under one roof.

A wedding or not, being glamorous is your fashion rule this season, as fashion brands present bright colours, ruffles, bling in accessories and shimmer everywhere. From sequined ensembles to crystal-studded heels and from beaded clutches to liquid gold lips, this fall-winter, it's all about being a diva!

For your Diwali look, turn the pages for some elegant Indo-Western inspiration. The saree goes fusion chic, draped over a pair of tights; and the lehenga gets a crinkled makeover. Be inspired by our New Year and Christmas party looks as well, with metallic dresses, suave velvet pantsuits and some smart ideas for the debonair man. We throw light on what your party makeup and hair should be like, as our experts offer you tips to get the right hairstyle and the perfect face. What's more, in each of our malls, we're curating something truly special for you on Diwali, Christmas and New Year.

If you're throwing a party at home, let our chefs offer you ideas for starters. From Burmese to Korean, take your pick! We take you around Asia in search of the best yearender vacation: from Thailand to Vietnam and from Sri Lanka to Cambodia, let us gear you up for the holiday season. So, here's to a fabulous festive time and a fantastic New Year!

Fashion loves the '80s right now. Catwalks have embraced all-out glamour, sequins galore, layers of ruffles, bright plaids and electric neons. We round-up the three best trends to keep you stylishly cosy this winter he 1980s were the decade of everything more — of extra padded shoulders, ramrod-straight plaids, hyper ruffles, neon shines, coloured super-tights, golden waves and red lacquer lips! Most of these are making a comeback this fall-winter but, thankfully, in watered-down versions. We make a smart list of the three top trends to incorporate in your wardrobe to give it the right 80s' touch...

Yes, we do and how! This festive season, it's going to be all about sparkles. Sequins will shimmer and shine in all avatars: read shoes, dresses, trousers, blazers and accessories. If sequins bother you, opt for lamé. If you don't want to go OTT, tone down the sparkle with simple accessories.

Wedding Tales

From the most elaborate lehengas to every groom's dream wardrobe, the 15-day mega fashion extravaganza at DLF Mall of India, Noida, had it all

Shopping for your wedding can be a challenging task. But the DLF Mall of India, Noida, eased the job for brides and grooms by curating a fabulous 15-day wedding extravaganza. From August 15 onwards, the best of apparel and accessory brands at the mall showcased their most lavish wedding collections, creating a one-stop shopping destination for ladies and gentlemen alike.

Presenting the season's hottest wedding trends, a spectacular fashion show was organised on August 17. From stunning bespoke ensembles to smart accessories, there was something for everyone on the runway. As if that weren't amazing enough, Bollywood actress Vaani Kapoor set the ramp on fire as the showstopper!

Another highlight of the event were the wedding exhibits, created to turn every vision of your big day into a gorgeous reality. Some of the biggest designers and brands showcased their latest collections and also offered tips on how to carry off their creations in style. The likes of Meena Bazaar, Mohanlal Sons, Amante, Club Mahindra and

Ms Pushpa Bector, EVP & Head, DLF Shopping Malls along with Bollywood actor Vaani Kapoor

Jeevansathi.com came together under one roof to help brides-to-be with wedding essentials.

The grooms, in turn, could tap into the expert guidance of Brooks Brothers, Scotch & Soda, Massimo Dutti and Manyavar for all their outfit and styling needs. After all, what is a big fat Indian wedding without outfits that dazzle the world?

Making it even easier for them to look their best were footwear brands like Charles & Keith, Nine West, Venus Steps, Cole Haan, Kala Niketan and Steve Madden, offering their very finest.

And of course, no wedding ensemble is complete without the right accessories: every trinket matters, and has to be chosen with care. For this too, the DLF Mall of India had an answer: an exquisite collection of wedding jewellery and accessories to choose from! Masterpieces by CaratLane, Diamond Tree, World of Glitter, Preeti Mohan and Voylla left shoppers spoilt for choice, giving them a chance to experiment with classic as well as contemporary pieces.

If you think that was all, think again. A series of masterclasses called 'wedding lounge' were organised at the mall to help every bride-to-be find the right makeup, also telling her how to fight that last-minute pimple scare! Makeup artists and stylists were all attention, there to help perfect every wedding look with expert suggestions and handy tips. The masterclasses also made sure to bust common bridal makeup faux pas like overdone eyes, lips, nails and hair.

And finally, it was time for a few surprises. Three shoppers with the highest billings during the 15-day affair, stood a chance to win a special wedding gift for their big day! Couple holiday tickets, shopping vouchers and even free bridal services at the event were up for grabs. With shows, events and exhibitions, the entire mall came to life to celebrate the magic of the wedding season.

PALETTE OF SPARKLES

The bold lip-dark eye combo is dead and gone. While global runways went all-out glittery, taking inspiration from the disco ball, we water down the trends for you. ## SUN-KISSED & BRONZED

So, the tan from the summer holiday has faded and you're yearning for the peachy, healthy sun-kissed glow again. A few strokes and swipes should have you sporting that look again! First, get your hands on a lightweight foundation; stay away from the heavy-duty ones. Warm up your skin a little by using warm-toned pigments. A nude blush and perhaps a tinge of glitter will do. You could look for a soft pink palette for the absolutely perfect blush of health. Use a touch of shine on your cheekbones to give your barely-there makeup a polished finish.

SHINY EYES

The focus is on eyes this season. Doll up those eyelids with glitter, shimmer and shine. Choose silver, bronze or gold, but let them sparkle. Dab a little at the corner and smudge across the lid evenly. And if you want to colour your lids, pick purple, the shade of the season! Gel eyeliners in pop colours are back again. Use them in a bold stroke. If you are doing the ethnic look, opt for the winged eyeliner. It tends to give a cute retro vibe and pairs well with ethnic ensembles. Keep your lashes bare with just a hint of natural mascara.

MESSY SIDE WAVES WITH A TWIST

Grab a pair of curling tongs and curl up those tresses. Use a texturing product to add volume. Leave them long and messy. Scoop some of it up in a half pony, twist it and pin it up on one side of your head.

LOW SIDE BUN WITH TEXTURED CURLS

This is a perfect wedding hairstyle for women with short and curly hair. Give it a texture with a hairspray, part it on one side and make a low bun on the opposite side. If you want, you can let a few coils rest on your forehead.

NEAT CENTER-PARTED LOW BUN WITH SMOOTH FINISH

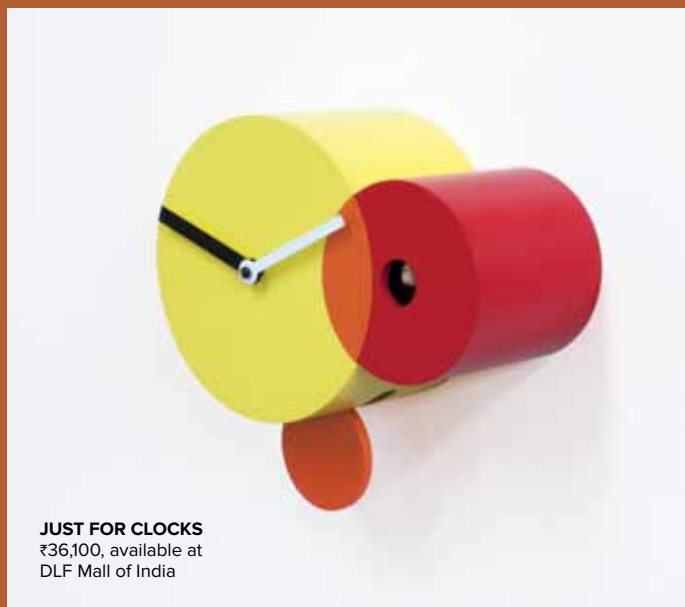

A neat finish is the secret to this striking wedding hairstyle. Start by creating a middle parting and apply serum all over your hair, liberally. Now, pull the smooth and sleek hair back at the nape of your neck and twist it into a small bun. Pair the clean hairdo with statement earrings.

Diwali dinner table

One of the easiest ways to deck up your interiors for a party is by matching the mood with your table setting. A festive table setting doesn't have to cost a bomb. A few smart tricks will also do. Refashion your shiny baubles from the local gifting store; old beads and necklaces that you may no longer have any use for can be turned into napkin and mat holders. And of course the ever reliable votives will help you go from drab to dressy in the blink of an eye! Add a shimmery runner to the table to make the room festive. All you need to do is bear in mind one simple rule – keep it fluid and casual. Now that you have a few tips handy, pick from our selection of home decor products to help you set a stylish Diwali dinner table.

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING TO TOWN

A Christmassy home is filled with cheer. Brighten up your home with bright baubles in red and green, expansive garlands and traditional Christmas decorations. Add to these a few smart ideas. The trend of using alternative Christmas trees is something that is gaining popularity. Get the kids involved to build a tree from waste paper. Colour it green and decorate with fairy lights. Not only will this get the entire family involved, it will make a statement for sure.

For those with an open floor plan, modern Christmas ornaments like crystals along with a more elaborately decorated living room in the backdrop can do the trick. Give it an Indian touch by using traditional lamps and cushions with funky desi patterns! Pick an elaborate fresh flower arrangement as the centre piece of your holiday table.

How did you start your career?

I started my career at JW Marriott, Mumbai, working in an Italian restaurant. Later I joined Ankit (Ankit Gupta, co-owner of Burma Burma) and have been associated with Burma Burma from the brand's inception.

From major hotel chains, to a standalone restaurant... how is the experience?

Working in Burma Burma is great fun. It is not only my work place but very close to my heart. From ideating on the restaurant to visiting Burma to explore the native food and culture and finally, launching the brand, it has been an exciting journey.

What's your favourite dish at Burma Burma?

It's very difficult to pick one but if I have to, it is the shan khowsuey. I had tasted this dish for the first time in a small restaurant in Inle and had fallen in love with it. I had requested the restaurant owner for the recipe and he was gracious enough to teach me.

sunflower seeds, then add 2 tbsp of refined flour & make round patties.

Make a medium thick batter of refined flour with water & salt, dip the tofu patty in it & then coat in panko crumbs. Refrigerate for 2 hrs then fry as required.

For assembling, steam the buns & cut in half. Place lettuce at the bottom followed by the patty & sliced onion & cherry tomato. Top with coconut mayo.
